CERTIFICATION:

Research projects involving human subjects, animal or bio-hazardous material require an active Certificate of Approval:
<http://ors.ok.ubc.ca/ethics.html>

Certification is not required. Proceed to Abstract.

OR

Certification is required.

Your supervisor currently has ethics approval on this particular project.

*Certificate #:

Your supervisor must apply for an amendment to include your name.

Your supervisor will be applying for ethics approval on this particular project.

If your project requires Animal Care Ethics or Behavioral Research Ethics (BREB) approval, it is strongly suggested that you and your supervisor write the appropriate ethics application proposal and save it on the RISE website. Once your application is approved for funding, your ethics application should be submitted as soon as possible to ensure ethics approval is granted in time for the commencement of your project. In the case of expedited BREB review (minimal risk), applications are accepted for review any time. For full board BREB review, ethics applications must be submitted by the published monthly deadline (ie 1st week in March). For more information about BREB applications, contact Lisa Shearer (lisa.shearer@ubc.ca) or go to <http://breb.ok.ubc.ca>. Please note that Preliminary Approval forms for research projects will not be accepted for BREB review.

Ethics approval, including amendments to previously approved projects, is required prior to the release of funds.
